There are many benefits to robotic-assisted surgery, such as better visualization, surgical precision and shorter recovery times. Riverview Health uses the following robotic-assisted surgical systems:

da Vinci Surgical System

This system is used for various surgeries to treat gynecological conditions and to perform general surgery procedures.

- Gynecological conditions include endometriosis, heavy uterine bleeding, uterine fibroids, uterine prolapse, myomectomy and hysterectomy.
- General surgeries treat colorectal cancer, colorectal polyps, diverticulitis, cholecystectomy, abdominal wall hernias, inguinal hernia and other abdominal conditions.

ExcelsiusGPS® for Spine Surgery

This robotic spinal navigation system improves visualization and is designed to increase safety and accuracy. During spine surgery, the robot allows surgeons to make smaller incisions, resulting in less muscle trauma and blood loss for the patient, as well as a shorter hospital stay, quicker recovery and less pain.

CORI Surgical System for Knee Replacements

The CORI Surgical System is an advancement in the way orthopedic surgeons perform partial and total knee replacement. The technology enables image-free smart mapping to build 3D models without the need for CT or MRI scans. 3D modeling allows for more accurately placed knee implants, resulting in shorter hospital stays and faster recovery times.

Aquablation® Therapy for Enlarged Prostate

Aquablation® therapy allows urologists to create customized maps for patient treatment plans. The minimally invasive procedure is performed under anesthesia and uses a real-time, image-guided robot to insert and hold a waterjet that removes excess prostate tissue. The heat-free waterjet is the first of its kind and precisely removes prostate tissue and minimizes thermal damage to surrounding tissue. Aquablation takes less than an hour and provides long-term relief without an incision in the abdomen.

To make an appointment, call 317.776.8748.

When it comes to your patients' urology care, we take a team approach to ensure the correct diagnosis and treatment options are tailored to their specific conditions. We work with other specialists, such as nephrologists and medical oncologists, depending on the level of care your patients need.

Volunteering

For more information, call 317.776.7236.

Riverview Health relies on the assistance of hundreds of volunteers, and new volunteers are always welcome. Volunteering is a way to foster community involvement while helping others. The volunteer program at Riverview Health has existed for nearly 60 years, and volunteers continue to make a tremendous impact on patient care and satisfaction.

Volunteers assist with patient transport, guest services, the Carolyn's Corner Gift Shop and the Women's Boutique at Riverview Health Westfield Hospital. Volunteers work four-hour shifts in the morning or afternoon, at least one day weekly. An in-person interview, background check and health screening are required prior to being accepted. A one-day orientation and annual mandatory education session provide training and review of hospital procedures.
